JUNE MEETING

Thursday, June 12, 2003
7:30 A.M. at
Casey's
Newtown Square

President's Corner

If you are the kind of business person who is looking for a break in your day that provides good food and good conversation with fellow business people in Newtown Square, you certainly found it at the April Newtown Square Business and Professional Association luncheon at Dunwoody Village. Sue Flom made us feel very special and the tasty salmon didn't hurt either.

Elizabeth Sellers spoke to us about her cheese business, which included useful insights and amusing stories about launching a business about which she knew almost nothing. After lunch, a detailed tour of the assisted living section was available to those who were able to stay. As mentioned in previous issues of "Around Town", we welcome offers from other businesses to host one of our meetings. Please contact a board member if you are interested.

In today's economy, we face challenging times, constantly trying to do more with less and discover new/cheaper/better ways to do old things. From time to time we discover or rediscover resources that we have underutilized. Perhaps the Newtown Square Library is such a resource? It is now relocated in the new township building, a state of the art facility with better parking and general accessibility. There is so much available at the library that we don't know. Our meeting on May 8th will involve a presentation designed specifically for us. A light buffet and tour of the facility will follow. I strongly encourage you to attend, or perhaps send one of your employees. The June meeting will be our scholarship breakfast, then we break for the summer! I look forward to seeing you at the library.

Scholarship Award

Applications for the Newtown Square Business and Professional Association Dick Pound Scholarship are available for students who are immediate members of the NSB&PA member or a member employee. Students must be accepted in a two- or four-year accredited college.

For application, call Kathy Baun, New Century Bank, at 610.356.4000. Deadline is May 16; scholarship to be awarded June 12.

Library Luncheon

The quality of a community is a complex thing. It is made up of good laws and regulations, good people of character and integrity carrying them out and a proper balance of open space and quality businesses. However it is also marked by its institutions such as the churches, schools and libraries. Newtown Square has a new facility to genuinely boast about. It is our library.

Take an hour out of your day to see this exquisite facility and to learn about its benefits to you as a business person.

May 8th at 12:00 Noon

FYI

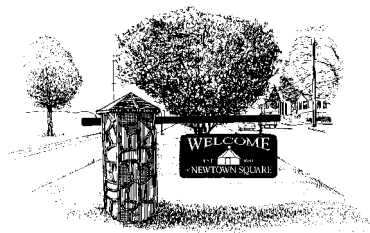

On May 7th a free evening seminar is available at the Chester County Library, next to the Exton Mall, entitled: "How To Start and Operate a Small Business." Topics covered will be selecting a business situation, fictitious name registration, the use of a business plan, liability insurance, accounting systems, IRS rules, etc.

Time: 6:30 – 9:00 p.m.

Date: May 7, 2003
